Applications:

Ideal for product demonstrations, promotions, and samples.

This promotional counter is an ideal display for product demonstrations, promotions, and samples. A promotional counter, also known as a demonstration counter or promo stand, makes a great addition to any trade show booth, presentation, or store display. Use this promotional counter in upscale stores to display products and offer out samples. A promotional counter also makes a great focal point in trade show booths and exhibits. By standing behind a promo counter, you are giving attendees a comfortable place to approach your exhibit. This promotional center features a convenient bean-shaped design. Each promotion stand easily folds down into 'its' carrying case for transportation.

A promotional counter, such as a trade show counter or promotion stand, provides a reception point, workspace, and place to hold your flyers and brochures. This bean-shaped promotional counter also offers a great place to make traveling presentations and address small groups. Each promotional counter is made out of high quality materials for an upscale and durable construction. The frame and siding are constructed with a high-grade aluminum, while the base, shelf and counter are made from `MDF` wood. At 40" wide, this promo counter will easily fit into `any` trade show booth or store environment. Each promotional counter can be setup and unassembled in minutes A wrench is included for assembly.
