Overview

The System is the world's most innovative, easy to build, compact and flexible modular display system. With no tools required or levers to push, no other system can compete on speed of build or versatility. All components are fire rated and require no tools or levers to enable speed of build; they are interchangeable, re-configurable and can be used time and time again.

Application

The System has been designed to carry a wide variety of media including rigid, rollable panels, tension fabrics and textiles. 60" screens, projector screens, shelving and display cabinets – all can be easily incorporated.

The System has been designed to be adaptable to a wide variety of display environments. The real success behind the modular display system is its versatility, and the ability to be reconfigured to meet your specific requirements. The system can be used to create: small or large exhibition stands, points of sale, conference sets, mobile bars, counters, light boxes, photo booths and hanging banners. There are no limitations – the possibilities are endless!
