Overview

- Lightweight portable presentation display easel
- Adjustable support arms and leg height
- Aluminum construction with non-marking rubber feet

This presentation display easel holds frames, bulletin boards, marker boards, and more. The display easel is great for use as a lobby display stand or display fixture. This presentation easel has three telescoping legs.

The presentation display easel, also known as a tripod display, is perfect for lobby, office, or classroom use. This accessory comes with attachable support arms; just secure the arms into `position` and tighten the wing nut. It can be set up in minutes with no tools necessary. We supply the display easel with the necessary instructions and hardware for assembly.

For added stability, this easel has an aluminum middle support connecting the three legs. An adjustable easel stand provides a means to display current promotions or services. This display easel is an ideal display stand for teachers, managers, trainers and salesmen!
